THE HOME PAPER

SAY!

(By CHARLES J. ARNOLD)

It will not be long now until old Jack Frost will ripen the pumpkins.

If there is anything in the world I detest it is someone "horning in" on someone else's business. That stands for both man and beast with me, so I simply got a "dose of my own medicine" yesterday afternoon when I "horned in" on the private affairs of a family of bumble bees. For, boys, they "horned" right back and I sure got "stung", both figuratively and literally. And if there is the least doubt in your mind regarding the ability of a bumble bee to "kick back" just let me direct you to a spot in Northwood, where dwells a family of bees of the bumble variety.

Dr. C. C. Tucker has asked me to insert, free of charge, the following advertisement:

LOST OR STOLEN:—The identity of the young Greencastle attorney, who took my antiquated straw hat from my residence, while a guest in my home, Monday night, is known and if the hat is not returned "post haste" legal steps, by some other attorney, will be taken. C. C. Tucker. The identity of the man who took the hat has not been revealed to me, but as Glenn H. Lyon was seen on the streets Tuesday morning wearing a strange bonnet, the finger of suspicion is strongly pointing his way. The misdeed was charge to several other men, myself included, but in each instance the man charge was able to prove his innocence. It is hoped that the hat will be returned to its owner and that no serious trouble will result.

The D. B. Johnson, underground "Palace of Sweets" recently constructed at the corner of Seminary and College Avenue, can be easily recognized by its color, which, to the best of my knowledge and belief, is yellow. The giant edifice rising above the "Palace of Sweets" is nothing more than the old Bayne residence, which has been transformed into a rooming house. The new buildings will be thrown open to the public shortly, at which time the public probably will be invited to visit and inspect the new property. In the mean time if you happen to see anything yellow, be not afraid, for it is nothing more or less than the "palace of Sweets."

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK THAT the world's greatest selling power is ADVERTISING.

THAT the printed page is the master creation of amazing simplicity through which it can be done.

THAT newspapers cater to the needs of all the people.

THAT the business men who make a practice of studying the advertising and editorial pages of the newspapers keep up-to-date and are better fortified to engage in the battle for business.

THAT advertising is the spirit of progress for the business world.

THAT steadily it gives a complete victory over obstacles because it is dependable when properly used.

THAT constantly year after year it makes its appeal to the world on behalf of worthy business.

NO POWER OR INFLUENCE CAN HINDER OR RETARD THE GROWTH OF A BUSINESS THAT IS BEING BUILT THROUGH STEADY, TRUTHFUL ADVERTISING. —By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee, Okla.

VOTERS DON'T HAVE TO REGISTER IN STATE

An article by John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, in The Herald Tuesday, urging a full vote this year, did not apply to Indiana in the part of the story relating to absentee voting and registration. Indiana is one of the three states to have no absentee voter law, both this statute and the one applying to registration being repealed by the 1927 legislature.

CRAWFORDSVILLE POLICE MAKE HEAVY HAUL

MAN AND WOMAN TAKEN AT HOME AFTER OFFICERS FIND WHISKEY AND BEER IN RESIDENCE—OTTO BIEDERSTEDT IN RAID

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Sept. 4.—Frank Gamble, 27, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Gertrude Evans, 36, of Danville, Ill., one gallon of "corn liquor," 175 bottles of "home brew," three cans of malt, ten pounds of sugar, more than 150 empty bottles and a bottle cap were taken in a raid conducted at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon on a residence situated at 908 east Market street by a raiding party composed of Chief of Police Vernon Shields, Sheriff Tom Rice, Captain Fred Grimes and Officers Steinhauser, Biederstedt and Bennett.

The raid was one of the most sensational ever conducted on a "speakeasy" in this city and officers have been working on the case for several days. The residence has been watched for some time and on Tuesday morning armed with a search warrant the police entered the home and discovered the liquor, but failed to either the man or woman at home.

After finding the liquor, Officer Steinhauser and Biederstedt were stationed inside the house while Chief Shields and Sheriff Rice took up the watch for Gamble and Mrs. Evans a block away from the house and across the street. At 2 o'clock the parties were seen in Market street in their car and when they drove into the driveway at the side of their home, Sheriff Rice drove his car in behind to prevent them from escaping. Gamble let the woman out of his car and when she went into the house they nabbed him. Mrs. Evans ran right into the arms of Officer Biederstedt.

The pair was taken to jail where they told the officers that they had come to this city two months ago from the vicinity of Terre Haute and Clinton. The liquor and liquor making equipment required two automobiles to transfer it to police headquarters where it is to be held as evidence against them when they are to be brought to trial.

PARKER-CRAMER PREPARE TO RETURN HOME

WILL SAIL FROM GREENLAND AT EARLIEST OPPORTUNITY—

WILL ABANDON AIRPLANE

Will Sail For New York From Copenhagen—Abandon Plans To Go To Stockholm. Original Destination

LONDON, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer, pilots of the plane Greater Rockford, who were rescued after two weeks of adventure in the wilds of Greenland, are preparing to leave Mount Evans at the earliest opportunity for Copenhagen, said a radiogram from Godhaven today. They will proceed to Holstenborg where they will sail for Copenhagen upon the ship Disko. It is believed that the Disko will leave Holstenborg in about a week, but as its journey to Copenhagen will be by circuitous route it is impossible to say when it will reach the Danish capital.

Both Hassell and Cramer are well but are anxious to get started on their way home. They have given up the idea of proceeding to Stockholm, which was their destination when they hopped off at Rockford, Ill., last month. From Copenhagen they will sail for New York.

While the radiogram made no mention of the men's plans regarding the airplane, it is believed that it will be left stranded on the inland ice at Sukkertoppen where it was forced down by lack of fuel on August 19. Later an attempt may be made to salvage it by representatives of the Danish government. Members of the University of Michigan Greenland expedition, headed by Prof. W. H. Hobbs.

Mount Evans, where the two airmen are now the guests of Prof. Hobbs, lies slightly inland and to the northeast from Holstenborg.

Hundreds Watch Start Of Race For $5,000 Prize—Thirty-eight Planes In Derby

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Sept. 5.—(INS)—A Waco biplane with Albert R. Jacobs at the controls and Sam Gordon as passenger hopped off here at 6:43 a. m. (Eastern Daylight Time), the first of 38 Class A planes in the National Air Derby to take the air in the transcontinental air race to Los Angeles.

The remaining 37 planes hopped off at one-minute intervals. Hundreds of spectators watched the planes dash across the runway and then lift gracefully into the gray skies of early morning.

The planes one after another zoomed into the sky, like a flock of birds roused from the bush by a hunter. They circled and dived over the field, got their bearings, straightened out and flew full speed for the west. As the planes left the field they were checked by official timers.

Harrisburg, Pa., is the first scheduled stop of the Class A planes. There they will halt for thirty minutes to refuel and make any mechanical adjustments necessary. Another half-hour stop will be made at McKeesport, Pa., today followed by an overnight stop at Columbus, Ohio. According to the rules of the race each plane must remain thirty minutes in all but night stops and any plane failing to reach the night control by 3:30 p. m. will be ruled out of the race.

The race today was limited to commercial planes carrying two or more passengers with motors not exceeding 90 horsepower. The winner, the plane credited with the best elapsed time, will receive a cash prize of $5,000. Other prizes ranging from $2,500 to $300 will be awarded.

Starting tomorrow at dawn the planes will leave Columbus, Ohio, on the second lap of the race to Mines Field, Los Angeles. Other stops scheduled in the race are Terre Haute, Ind., St. Louis and Kansas City, Mo., Oklahoma City, Fort Worth, Abilene, Midland, Pecos and El Paso, Texas, Lordsburg, N. FIRE UNDER EMPTY BOILER IS BLAMED

PART OF FIRST FLOOR MANS-FIELD HALL BADLY DAM-AGED EARLY WEDNESDAY MORNING

WORKMEN ESCAPE EXPLOSION

Small Fire Follows Blast—Building
Had Just Been Refinished—
Damage Amounts To
Several thousand Dollars

A terrific boiler blast under the northeast corner of Mansfield Hall, girls' dormitory at DePauw University, early Wednesday morning, damaged building and furnishings to the extent of several thousand dollars. Fortunately workmen engaged in re-furnishing the building for the opening of school next week were not in close proximity to the blast. Several were knocked to the floor however. Most of the flooring on the entire first floor was ruined by the explosion and many of the furnishings were demolished by the concussion of the blast.

The explosion is thought to have resulted from building a fire under an empty water heater of about fifty-gallon capacity in the basement of the building. The boiler tore its way through the first floor of the building, deflected from an iron pipe and penetrated the wall of an adjoining room, before halting.

The terrific force of the explosion bulged all the flooring on the first floor, broke all windows on the north side of the first floor in the proximity of the blast and hurled furnishings of the first floor rooms against the ceiling.

Authorities said that the explosion could not have happened after school opens, since this boiler is not connected with the heating system which heats Mansfield Hall and the other dormitories. Loss is covered by insurance.

Miss Dora Jones, matron of the hall, who has been on leave of absence for the past nine months, on a tour of Europe, had just returned to the hall and narrowly escaped injury. She passed through the corridor on the first floor and out onto the back veranda just as the boiler shot up from the basement through the first floor.

The hall had just been redecorated and remodeled and partly refurnished. As the floors, ceilings, and walls, including exterior brick walls of a number of rooms will have to be replaced the damage is estimated at thousands of dollars.

The boiler tore its way through the heavy tile flooring of a toilet room and debected through a heavy iron pipe to tear its way through a west wall into an adjoining bath room. A heavy stone wall surrounding the boiler in the basement was crumpled by the blast.

Burning coal was thrown into paper in the basement by the force of the explosion but the fire was soon extinguished by workmen. The basement was flooded by water from burst pipes.

Working in the basement at the time were Bernard Thomas and Kenneth Young. They described the blast as being terrific. Just after the blast occurred Dallas Bee and Gerald Mason, electricians, arrived on the scene. They were to have installed some wiring directly over the boiler on the first floor.

The city fire department was called out soon after the blast when a small fire resulted. This was extinguished before it arrived however. Fire Chief John Goddard made a survey of the damage and boiler. He did not wish to make an official statement but admitted the damage would run into several thousand dollars. He ascribed the blast to lack of water in the boiler.

No fire has been under the hot water heater during the summer and it is believed a fire was built under the empty boiler.

RADIO LIGHT IS NOW PREDICTED WITH NEW BULB

By International News Service
SAN FRANCISCO.

House light by wireless. Radio illumination tuned to the knife and fork frequency of the dining table. Pretty little neons chasing themselves up and down the glass tubes while papa reads the comics, while papa frequents saffrons while sister necks in the alcove.

Such is the engaging vista of the future switched on today by Dr. Karl T. Compton, professor of physics at Princeton university and at present sojourning in Berkeley as a member of the University of California summer session faculty.

"House lighting of the future may be done with bulbs containing no filament and not directly connected with an electrical circuit, but operated by radio waves," Dr. Compton remarks.

Research Work

He himself doing research work in this field and is a consultant of the General Electric company and of the fixed Nitrogen Research Laboratory in Washington, D. C.

His prediction of high powered gloom chasers for the humble home is not an unfounded dream, Dr. Compton asserts, but a logical prophecy based on the apparent success of neon and other bases in the now commonly seen street display lights, an experiment with lights of this type at airplane landing fields and on the increasing amount of research being done with regard to radiation and atomic structure in gases.

"The wireless or radio light has already been used successfully for special purposes," Dr. Compton points out.

"In Schenectady, N. Y., a large light of this variety was mounted on the tower of WGY radio station. It illuminated the entire city and made it possible to read newspapers at a distance of two miles from the source.

As Landing Light

"A landing light of this kind also is in use at the New York terminal airplane landing field."

According to Dr. Compton the radio light is of great value because of its efficiency and because the bulbs are practically ever lasting when once installed, unless actually smashed.

One problem is a proper mixture of the gases to make a light suitable to the human eye.

WANTED TO SEE HOW FAST A NEW FORD COULD RUN

Alfred Fullagar, of Alton, Ill., found out how fast one of the new Ford cars would travel but it cost him $18.30 to obtain the information. Fullagar was driving east on the National road this morning at a good steady pace in his Chrysler "72" which he thinks is about as fast as they make them, when he noticed a new Ford car creeping up behind him. Fullagar said that he decided to let his car out and see how fast the Ford could go and whether it could pass him. Fullagar failed to notice that the driver of the new Ford was State Motor Officer John Early and he let his car out until he was going about 68 miles an hour before the Ford drew up along side of his machine and signaled him to stop. Fullagar was very much surprised to discover that he had been racing with a state traffic officer but was very good natured about it and paid his fine of $18.30 in Justice Gates' court.—Brazil Times.

SECOND WIFE REVEALED IN SUICIDE INVESTIGATION

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Sept. 4.—During investigation by Coroner Frank F. Tournier and local officers today as to cause of the death of Mrs. Jacob Massey, wife of a night watchman of Indiana university, who died suddenly yesterday of a dose of poison, a woman was summoned, who upon being questioned, claimed she was married to Massey May 19, 1924. The woman said she had been with her mother at Elgin, Ark., until two months ago, when she came to this city.

Massey and the woman he was living with came here from Arkansas two years ago. It has not been determined whether Massey was married to the dead woman. The body, which was to have been shipped to Arkansas relatives, is being held in a morgue here until the investigation is over.

After taking the poison, the woman told a physician she had done so in order to avoid becoming a mother. An autopsy performed by the coroner showed there were no grounds for the woman's fears.

THE THEATERS

THE GRANADA

See Fazenda As "Five And Ten Cent Annie"

Louise Fazenda, featured in "Five and Ten Cent Annie," the Warner Bros. comedy now at the Granada Theatre, is considered one of the cleverest of screen comedians. Born in Lafayette, Ind., she received her education at St. Mary's Convent and the Los Angeles High Schools before she embarked upon a short career in stock. Originally associated with pig-tails and gingham slapstick comedies, Miss Fazenda rapidly progressed to even greater popularity in more subtle roles. MRS. ALICE R. ETTING

"It was in South Bend, Ind., that I first heard of the miraculous results following the use of Konjola, the new medicine, and I concluded that I might as well give the remedy a chance. Before I had finished the second bottle all my troubles disappeared, and today I am enjoying the best health I have ever known."

"A few weeks before, I was desperate, disheartened. Today I am ambitious and cheerful; not an ache nor pain, and I owe this splendid health and surprising recovery entirely to Konjola. What a joy it is to be able to eat anything one likes, and to be ready for all of one's duties. Quite a contrast to dragging through life in misery."

ANTI-HOOVER FARM GROUP OPEN OFFICE

BOTH DEMOCRATIC AND REPUBLICAN ORGANIZATIONS TURN ATTENTION TO LABOR—DAILEY AND LESLIE TO SPEAK AT EVANSVILLE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 5.—(INS)—Having devoted Tuesday to agriculture, both Democratic and Republican organizations of Indiana today turned their attention to labor, with announcements made that Frank C. Dailey, Democratic, and Harry G. Leslie, Republican nominees for Governor, would address the Indiana Federation of Labor during its state convention next week at Evansville.

Both parties "broadcast" on the pertinent agricultural issue yesterday. The Democratic farm advisory committee met and selected J. R. Riggs, of Sullivan, who was Assistant Secretary of Agriculture under President Wilson to head a militant campaign among farmers for both national and state tickets, while the G. O. P. farm committee reported on its visit to Herbert Hoover at Cedar Rapids, Ia., on Aug. 22.

Meanwhile anti-Hoover farm organization opened offices in the Hotel English. The group was christened the Independent Equality for Agriculture Club.

The report of the Republican farmers concerning Hoover said, in part:

"We found Mr. Hoover to be a plain, quiet, dignified and friendly man, who recognizes the depressed condition of agriculture to be of utmost and outstanding importance affecting substantially and seriously the general economic welfare of the Nation's financial, commercial and industrial activities."

The Agricultural Club, on the other hand, issued a statement today saying that the organization, chiefly composed of Republicans, was opposed to Hoover, who "stands convicted among the farmers as the enemy of agricultural welfare."

Officers named were George W. Trautman, Sunman, chairman, and Claude Rankin, Bloomington, secretary.

COUNTY LEVY IS FIXED AT THIRTY CENTS

GRAVEL ROAD REPAIR FUND RAISED TWO AND ONE-HALF CENTS—POOR FUND FOR 1929 SLASHED

The county tax levy for 1929 was fixed at 30 cents on each $100 valuation by the County Council at its session Tuesday. The gravel road repair fund was fixed at 22½ cents on each $100 valuation.

The county levy for 1929 is the same as for 1928 but the gravel road repair was raised 2½ cents, in order to meet a decrease in property valuation for next year.

The county council slashed the county poor fund for 1929 in half making this appropriation for next year $5,000. Last year $7,000 was appropriated for the County Poor Fund but this proved inadequate and an additional $3,000 was appropriated, making a total of $10,000 expended in 1928 for the county poor.

Appropriations for all township assessors for 1929 was reduced over $100 in each township. No operating expenses were appropriated for the township assessors for 1929. In Greencastle township $1,000 was allowed for assessment purposes compared to $1,155 in 1928.

These cuts in the county budget were necessary in order to keep the county levy for 1929 to 30 cents.

The council took no action on a petition asking for an appropriation of $3,000 for removing the Court House curb. County office appropriations were also held to the minimum.

HOOSIER FARMER LEAVES G. O. P. TO SUPPORT SMITH

JOHN NAPIER DYER OF VINCENNES SAYS REPUBLICANS HAVE UTTERLY REPUDIATED ITS PROMISES AND FAILED TO GIVE AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 4.—John Napier Dyer, Vincennes, Ind., one of the leading fruit growers of the country, formerly first vice-president of Rotary International and director in the American Farm Bureau Federation, today announced his "divorce" from the Republican party, expressing himself as "disgusted with its lack of honor in the repudiation of its solemn pledges to the American farmer," and adding that he would support the Democratic ticket, Mr. Dyer, who personally operates 1,000 acres of land in Knox county, Indiana producing both fruit and grain, is president of the Knox county Horticultural Society, chairman of the organization committee of the National Horticultural Council, and was one of the organizers of the Indiana farm Bureau Federation. He is widely known as a speaker. His statement follows:

"I am a life-long Republican; a dry; a Protestant. During a period of seven years I have urged, begged and pleaded for relief from an intolerable condition affecting the business in which I am engaged, viz: the operation of a thousand acres of land—farming. During this period I have witnessed the depreciation in the value of the lands and chattels of those engaged in the business of agriculture or more than thirty billions of dollars. Added to this distress, farmers' indebtedness has increased more than eight and one-half billions of dollars. This is the real, tangible problem of agriculture—all else is merely accessory to it.

"For more than seven years the Republican party has been in power. In 1920 the distress of agriculture began during the Harding administration. The pleas of farm leaders for constructive relief at that time met with derision. In 1924 the Republican party platform, as bait for the voter, pledged the administration of President Coolidge to a policy of giving agriculture a quality of opportunity and constructive relief. In the four years of the Coolidge administration of the government in the interest of the financial and industrial cast not a single constructive utterance came from the chief executive, nor a single effort to make good the party's pledge to help the American farmer out of his difficulties or to relieve him of his intolerable burden of debt.

The Republican party has welched on its promises made to the farmers in 1924. It has repudiated its solemn obligations as set forth in its party platform.

"Now in 1928, the Republican party blossoms forth with a candidate at whose doorstep can be laid in largest measure his party's flagrant violation of its solemn pledges, and with a new set of flimsy promises seeks to throw dust in the eyes of the farmer and with honeyed words begs for his vote. Not satisfied with the platform he indorses and which has been repudiated by every reputable thinking farm leader, the candidate of the Republican party endeavors to amplify this platform by offering a panacea for farmers' ills by adding vague and meaningless words to lure the votes. If the candidate were honest in his pledges his words might be taken at their face value, but after almost eight years in the cabinets of two Republican Presidents, where he has sat idly by witnessing and aiding in the rape of the farmer, it is folly for him to come forth with a flare of words wholly lacking in a background of sincerity.

"Every farm leader knows that agriculture is no more 'one industry' than 'industry' is one industry. Its dilemma is identical and the solution of its problem can easily be accomplished as a whole. 'Abandoned farms of the northeast' were merely forerunners of abandoned farms of the middlewest. With a continuation of the present agricultural policy—a policy which refuses to recognize the reversal of world trade balances, and the lack of need for surplus agricultural production to bring back the gold from the Old World to pay our interest obligations of the past—there can be no real farm relief.

"Let not the candidate be deceived into thinking that what the American farmers want is a return to pre-war conditions. Farmers want to be brought up to date, given an equal opportunity, and to have a farm dollar equal in value to the dollar of every other group in the United States that has received the beneficent protection of the government through legislative enactments.
